

ProQuest Databases

The ProQuest Databases: What are They?

ProQuest databases allow users to search for citations, abstracts, and full-text and full-image articles on a variety of topics.

The ProQuest Databases: What are They?

West Los Angeles College students have access these Proquest databases:

- ProQuest Newspapers
- ProQuest Research Library

ProQuest Newspapers

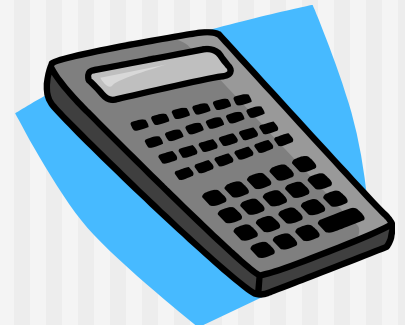

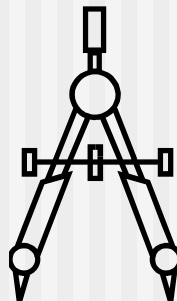

ProQuest Newspapers is a database that:

Contains national newspapers such as Christian Science Monitor, Los Angeles Times, New York Times, Wall Street Journal and Washington Post

ProQuest Research Library

ProQuest Research Library provides comprehensive coverage of journals, magazines and newspapers for information on a broad range of general reference subjects.

How to get to the ProQuest databases

1. Go to the Heldman Learning Resource Center web page: <http://library.wlac.edu/>
2. Click on ProQuest to enter the ProQuest basic search screen.

Ways to Search ProQuest

The Basic Search method allows you to search by entering a word, words or specific phrase in the search box.

Basic Search

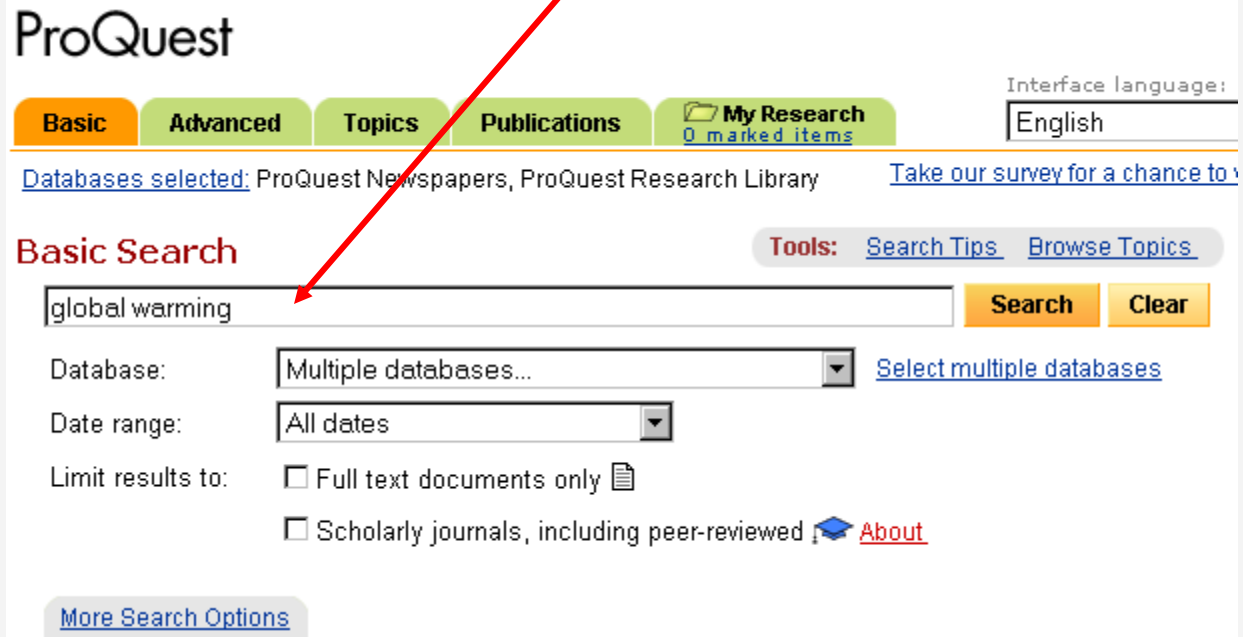

Capitalization does not matter in a search:

GLOBAL WARMING, Global Warming, or global warming will all find the same results.

Performing a Search in Basic

There are several steps in performing a search:

1. Enter one or more words in the entry box. You can use the Boolean Operators (AND, OR, or AND NOT) if needed.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Basic Search interface. A red arrow points to the search entry box, which contains the text "global warming". The interface includes a navigation bar with tabs for Basic, Advanced, Topics, Publications, and My Research. Below the navigation bar, there is a section for "Databases selected" and a link to "Take our survey for a chance to win". The "Basic Search" section includes a search entry box, a "Search" button, and a "Clear" button. Below the search entry box, there are dropdown menus for "Database:" (Multiple databases...) and "Date range:" (All dates). There are also checkboxes for "Limit results to:" with options for "Full text documents only" and "Scholarly journals, including peer-reviewed". A link for "More Search Options" is at the bottom.

Publication Search

You can also choose to search within the publication by typing a word or phrase in the entry box.

The screenshot shows a web interface for searching within a specific publication. At the top, the publication is identified as 'Environment, Washington'. Below this, there is a link to 'Full text coverage: Jan 1988 (Volume 30, Issue 1) - current' and a link to 'Publication Information'. To the right of the publication name are links for 'Set Up Alert' (with an email icon) and 'Create RSS Feed' (with an RSS icon). A yellow banner highlights the section 'Search for articles within this publication:'. Below this banner is a search entry box, which is pointed to by a black arrow from the text above. To the right of the entry box are 'Search' and 'Clear' buttons. Below the entry box are three options: 'Date range:' with a dropdown menu set to 'All dates', 'Look for terms in:' with a dropdown menu set to 'Citation and document text' and a link to 'About', and 'Limit results to:' with a checkbox for 'Full text documents only' (which is currently unchecked). At the bottom, another yellow banner highlights the section 'Browse specific issues:'. Below this banner is a form for 'View issues from:' with two dropdown menus set to 'Any month' and two empty text boxes for dates, followed by 'To:' and another two dropdown menus set to 'Any month' and two empty text boxes. To the right of this form are 'Browse Issues' and 'Clear' buttons.
