

ProQuest Databases

The ProQuest Databases: What are They?

ProQuest databases allow users to search for citations, abstracts, and full-text and full-image articles on a variety of topics.

The ProQuest Databases: What are They?

West Los Angeles College students have access these Proquest databases:

- ProQuest Newspapers
- ProQuest Research Library

ProQuest Newspapers

ProQuest Newspapers is a database that:

Contains national newspapers such as Christian Science Monitor, Los Angeles Times, New York Times, Wall Street Journal and Washington Post

ProQuest Research Library

ProQuest Research Library provides comprehensive coverage of journals, magazines and newspapers for information on a broad range of general reference subjects.

How to get to the ProQuest databases

How to get to ProQuest

The Basic Search screen will appear. This is the default screen. At this point you are searching in Multiple Databases (all of the databases) .

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window titled "Basic Search - Microsoft Internet Explorer". The address bar displays "http://207.233.49.98:2051/login/ipauto". The ProQuest logo is at the top left, and a "Help" link is at the top right. Below the logo is a navigation menu with tabs for "Basic", "Advanced", "Topics", "Publications", and "My Research" (with "0 marked items"). To the right of the menu is an "Interface language:" dropdown set to "English" and a "Go" button. Below the menu, it says "Databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers, ProQuest Research Library" and a link "Take our survey for a chance to win $100.". The main section is titled "Basic Search" and includes a search input field, a "Search" button, and a "Clear" button. Below the search field are options for "Database:" (set to "Multiple databases..."), "Date range:" (set to "All dates"), and "Limit results to:" with checkboxes for "Full text documents only" and "Scholarly journals, including peer-reviewed" (with an "About" link). A "More Search Options" link is at the bottom of the search section. At the very bottom of the page, there is a copyright notice: "Copyright © 2008 ProQuest LLC. All rights reserved. Terms and Conditions" and the ProQuest logo with the text "Text-only interface" above it.

How to Search Only One of the Databases

To access ONLY one of the Databases:

1. Click the Database drop-down menu.
2. A listing of the available databases will appear.
3. Click on the database that you would like to search.

OR: To search more than one database but not all of the databases, Click on Select Multiple Databases link and follow the directions.

Ways to Search ProQuest

The Search Methods are at the top of the ProQuest screen. These indicate different ways in which the databases can be searched.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest search interface. At the top left, the word "ProQuest" is displayed in a large, black, sans-serif font. Below this, there is a horizontal navigation bar with five buttons: "Basic" (orange), "Advanced" (light green), "Topics" (light green), "Publications" (light green), and "My Research" (light green). The "My Research" button includes a folder icon and the text "0 marked items". A red arrow points from the text above to the "Advanced" button. Below the navigation bar, there is a line of text: "Databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers, ProQuest Research Library".

The Basic Search method allows you to search by entering a word, words or specific phrase in the search box.

Basic Search

Capitalization does not matter in a search:

GLOBAL WARMING, Global Warming, or global warming will all find the same results.

Performing a Search in Basic

There are several steps in performing a search:

1. Enter one or more words in the entry box. You can use the Boolean Operators (AND, OR, or AND NOT) if needed.

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Basic Search interface. At the top, the ProQuest logo is on the left, and the interface language is set to English on the right. Below the logo are navigation tabs for Basic, Advanced, Topics, Publications, and My Research (0 marked items). The Basic tab is selected. Below the tabs, it shows the databases selected: ProQuest Newspapers and ProQuest Research Library. There is a link to take a survey. The main section is titled "Basic Search" and includes a search entry box containing "global warming". A red arrow points to this entry box. To the right of the entry box are "Search" and "Clear" buttons. Below the entry box are options for Database (Multiple databases...), Date range (All dates), and Limit results to (Full text documents only, Scholarly journals, including peer-reviewed). There is a link for "More Search Options" at the bottom.
